XXIV. And be it enacted, That the agent be and he is hereby authoriſed and directed to collect any ſum or ſums of money due from perſons reſidents without the ſtate of Maryland, and, if neceſſary, ſue therefor, and he is alſo authoriſed to employ counſel for the recovery of the ſame, and give ſuch fee as he may think reaſonable, and draw on the treaſurer of the weſtern ſhore therefor, who is hereby authoriſed to pay the amount of ſuch order.

XXV. And be it enacted, That if the ſaid agent ſhall not accept his appointment, or if after his acceptance he ſhall not give bond, and take the oath aforeſaid, before the firſt day of February next, or ſhall die, the governor and council are hereby authoriſed and requeſted to appoint a fit and proper perſon in his place, who ſhall have and exerciſe all the authorities and powers veſted in the ſaid agent by this act, ſuch perſon firſt giving ſecurity and taking the oath aforeſaid.

An account of the quantities of grain imported from January 4 to October 4, was ordered to be laid before parliament. A gentleman from Italy who lately travelled through the United States, gave to one of his friends the following account of the Lombardy poplar.

It ſerves, ſaid he, in the country from which it derives its name, the four following purpoſes:—

1. It moderates the heat of the ſummer ſun in meadows, and thus protects and increaſes the quantity of hay and paſture.

2. The body of the tree, when full grown, after its bark is taken off and it is thoroughly dried, makes good rails.

3. Its branches, when cut down and dried, ſtore excellent fire wood, particularly for cooking in ſummer.

4. The leaves and ſmall twigs of the trees, when plucked or cut in the fall of the year, and dried, make a wholſome fodder for cattle and ſheep during the winter.

It is hoped our farmers, where their native foreſt trees have become ſcarce and dear, will attend to theſe facts, and, hereafter, cultivate the Lombardy tree for other purpoſes than merely for domeſtic ſhade, or ornament.

An act was before the legiſlature of Virginia on the [illegible] inſt. for making a turnpike road from the head navigation of Patowmack river to the neareſt weſtern navigation. It is propoſed, that this turnpike ſhould commence at the mouth of Savage river, which is 21 miles above Fort Cumberland and about [illegible] from George-town. A ſubſcription is intended to be opened for 50,000 dollars in ſhares of 50 dollars each. It was expected that the ſtate of Virginia would ſubſcribe for 50 ſhares and the co-operation of Maryland by paſſing a ſimilar law was not doubted. The important benefits to be derived from carrying this plan into effect will more fully appear from the following preamble of the bill

"Whereas it is conceived that great advantage would accrue to the trade of Patowmack and to the commonwealth generally, by making eaſy the communication between the head navigation of that river and the neareſt weſtern navigation, which would cauſe the produce of a large extent of the weſtern country to take its courſe into this channel, inſtead of going 2,500 miles, partly through the dominions of a foreign nation, to a market at New-Orleans—And whereas it is repreſented to this general aſſembly that theſe navigations may be made to communicate by a road of about 40 miles, and that an aſſociation of citizens are willing to undertake to make the road if proper legiſlative encouragement be given by the ſtates of Virginia and Maryland through both of which the road will have to paſs about an equal diſtance, &c.
